

For Food and Hospitality:

Minimize Risk and Comply With Food Safety Regulations!

Improper food handling & alcohol service can cause devastating consequences.

- Non-compliance with local health department can put your establishment in danger of fines or closure.
- Untrained alcohol servers can cause major liability risk .
- Food workers who do not speak English may not understand or implement proper food handling procedures.

Assure your compliance...in any language

For your needs on your schedule in a location of your choice:

 ServSafe®
(Food Protection Manager Certification)
Chinese, English, Korean and Spanish.
Approved translator assistance is available in other languages

 ServSafe® Starter Program
(Basic Food Handling)
Available in multiple languages

 ServSafe® Alcohol
(Responsible Alcohol Service)

...and more

Intensive Review and Retesting
Re-Certification Testing and Proctoring

Language Directions provides the necessary instruction and support in Chinese, English, Korean, and Spanish that enables your employees to maintain a safe food and responsible alcohol service environment to protect your business and customers.

For more detailed information, contact us at:

www.languagedirections.com
info@languagedirections.com
888-554-8848—Phone
973-556-1090 - Fax

"Removing language and cultural barriers to effective communication"